Job Opportunity: East Lothian Tutoring Initiative
School Subject Tutors (15 positions available)

In response to the educational challenges faced by young people due to COVID-19, the East Lothian Tutoring Initiative has been set up to help 4th - 6th year students who are due to complete N4, N5 and Higher assessments in the spring of 2021.

Tutoring will be delivered in partnership with all six secondary schools in East Lothian and eligible students will be selected and invited to take part in weekly tutoring sessions over an 8 - 10 week period. Tutors, who will be recruited and trained locally, will deliver the majority of the sessions between January 2021 and April 2021. Tutors will be self-employed and need to be available to work across East Lothian. Training will take place in December 2020.

You will have achieved an "A" grade at Higher in the subject to be tutored, and subsequently completed an Honours degree or equivalent (not necessarily in the same subject). Tutors should be able to demonstrate the following qualities:

- Well organised and able to solve problems.
- Patient and willing to adapt when required.
- Able to develop relationships with a diverse group of people.
- Creative and innovative.

The initiative is being hosted and co-ordinated by Queen Margaret University, funders include the STV Children's Appeal.
