Police Scotland's Local Policing Consultation

Police Scotland consults with the public every year on what their priorities are for policing in their community.

The public consultation is for you to tell them what is important to you in your community. Police Scotland says that everyone's views will be taken on board at a national and local level. They want to focus on the priorities that will help communities most. There is no 'one size fits all' approach to local policing and all the needs and wants of individual communities will be considered. The online consultation is open all year which allows you to take part when it suits you but also gives the flexibility of being able to re-submit the consultation if your priorities change.
